- Pass Line Bet: Bet on the shooter rolling a 7 or 11 on the come-out roll (first roll).
- Don't Pass Line Bet: Bet against the shooter rolling a 7 or 11.
- Come Bet: Similar to the pass line bet, but placed after the come-out roll.
- Point Bet: Bet on the number (4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10) that the shooter will roll before rolling a 7.
- Field Bet: Bet on a specific number (2, 3, 4, 9, 10, 11, 12) being rolled.

The shooter is the player who rolls the dice. Their primary goal is to establish a "point" (4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 10) on the come-out roll. Once a point is set, the shooter continues rolling until they either roll the point again (win) or roll a 7 (lose).

To navigate the world of craps, it's essential to familiarize yourself with the colorful jargon used at the tables:

- Seven-Out: Rolling a 7 before establishing a point.
- Craps: Rolling a 2, 3, or 12 on the come-out roll.
- Horn Bet: Wagering on the numbers 2, 3, 11, and 12.
- Yo: Betting on an 11 or 12.
- Fade the Pass: Betting against the pass line.

While luck plays a role, there are strategies you can employ to increase your chances of winning at California Craps:

- Set a Budget and Stick to It: Manage your finances wisely to prevent significant losses.
- Learn the Odds and Payouts: Understand the probabilities associated with each bet to make informed decisions.
- Manage Your Bankroll: Divide your bankroll into smaller units to extend your playing time.
- Take Advantage of Bonuses: Casinos often offer bonuses to new and returning players.
- Study the Table: Observe the patterns of previous rolls to gain insights.
- Fade the Trend: When a particular number keeps hitting, consider betting against it.
- Bet on Low House Edge Bets: Favor bets with a house edge of 5% or less, such as pass line and come bets.

With the knowledge and strategies outlined in "You Can Win At California Craps," you're equipped to embark on a winning streak at the craps table. Remember to play responsibly, enjoy the excitement, and let the dice bring you fortune.
