A Profound Collection for Hearts in Mourning

In the face of loss, words often fail to capture the depth of our emotions. Poetry, however, has a unique ability to navigate the labyrinth of grief, offering solace, understanding, and a glimmer of hope.

Do Not Go Gentle: Poems For Funerals is an anthology of poignant and profound poems that delve into the complexities of loss, the rawness of sorrow, and the indomitable spirit that resides within us even in the darkest of times.

A Tapestry of Grief and Grace

Each poem in this collection is a tapestry of emotions, weaving together threads of pain, longing, and the search for meaning amidst the chaos of loss.

Through vivid imagery and heartfelt words, these poems capture the different facets of grief: the unbearable ache of absence, the suffocating weight of sorrow, the yearning for a loved one's presence, and the bittersweet memories that linger like a gentle breeze.

Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night

Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Though wise men at their end know dark is right,
Because their words had forked no lightning they
Do not go gentle into that good night.

Good men, the last wave by, crying how bright
Their frail deeds might have danced in a green bay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Wild men who caught and sang the sun in flight,
And learn, too late, they grieved it on its way,
Do not go gentle into that good night.

Grave men, near death, who see with blinding sight
Blind eyes could blaze like meteors and be gay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

And you, my father, there on that sad height,
Curse, bless, me now with your fierce tears, I pray,
Do not go gentle into that good night.
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Dylan Thomas
