

Roscoe Cancer Journey: Tips and Treats for Your Canine Companion

When Roscoe, our beloved golden retriever, was diagnosed with cancer, our world turned upside down. We were devastated, but determined to give him the best possible care and make his remaining time as comfortable and joyful as possible.

Over the next few months, we embarked on a journey of research, consultations with veterinarians, and holistic treatments. We learned so much about cancer in dogs, and about the importance of both medical treatment and a holistic approach to care.
