Paul Holes was a young detective when he was assigned to the East Area Rapist case. The rapist had terrorized California for over a decade, and Holes was determined to bring him to justice.

Holes worked tirelessly on the case, following every lead and interviewing countless witnesses. He eventually developed a profile of the rapist, and he began to narrow down the list of suspects.

In 2018, Holes and his team finally arrested Joseph James DeAngelo, a former police officer. DeAngelo was convicted of 13 murders, 13 kidnappings, and 51 rapes. He was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole.

Holes' memoir, Unattached, is a gripping and suspenseful account of one of the most notorious unsolved crime sprees in American history. It is a must-read for true crime fans and anyone interested in the criminal justice system.
